

Career Resources for Psychology students

Think about your skills

Studying Psychology at Leeds opens the door to a wide range of careers. The skills and knowledge gained on the course are relevant to a broad spectrum of employers and, as well as becoming professional psychologists, past graduates have entered various fields from management consultancy to the retail sector. Over the course of your degree you develop a good mix of subject specific and technical skills as well as transferable core skills. Consider the skills gained through your studies alongside your other activities, such as paid work, volunteering, family responsibilities, sport, membership of societies, leadership roles. These are some of the skills you will be able to demonstrate from your degree course.

Analytical Skills – Collecting, handling and analysing quantitative data are key aspects of your course. You will develop an analytical approach and be able to apply logical reasoning to problem solving. You will be highly adaptable as a result of undertaking many research projects, being able to address new problems in new contexts and transferring knowledge from one problem to another.

Communications Skills – You will have become an effective and articulate communicator through your work and will be able to discuss theories and findings and reasoned arguments to your peers. Explaining your ideas, answering questions, communicating results and writing reports is likely to be a key feature of the degree course.

IT Skills - High-level IT skills will be developed through the use of computer applications which you will be able to apply in a range of contexts.

You will also have developed more general transferable skills including:

- project management
- numeracy
- creative thinking
- working as part of a team.

The sheet 'Options with Psychology' <https://www.prospects.ac.uk/careers-advice/what-can-i-do-with-my-degree/psychology> will give you further information. Also look at http://careerweb.leeds.ac.uk/info/4/make\_yourself\_employable/179/how\_to\_develop\_your\_skills and list the skills you have to offer with examples.

What motivations and values influence your job choice?

The skills you can offer are part of the story, but you also need to consider factors like values, interests and motivation in deciding on a fulfilling career. You can use the Prospects Planner www.prospects.ac.uk/links/pplanner career planning tool to help you decide.

Careers Centre Resources for Psychology Students

- Work experience, both paid and voluntary, is valuable when you start job hunting regardless of the career you wish to pursue. This is particularly important if you want to become a chartered psychologist as it is vital to undertake as much work experience as possible whilst an undergraduate. We have resources at the Careers Centre and on our website to help you: http://careerweb.leeds.ac.uk/info/6/work\_experience
- Our exclusive online database has vacancies and events for University of Leeds students: <https://mycareer.leeds.ac.uk/home.html>
- It might be helpful to see what graduates from previous years have gone on to do. The Leeds graduate destinations are available at: http://careerweb.leeds.ac.uk/info/13/career\_planning/226/graduate\_destinations/9
- If you would like more extensive information on different careers and ideas of what you might like to do after you complete your course you could look at our pearltrees account www.pearltrees.com/leedsunicareers
- There could be Leeds graduates working in an area that interests you, so check out the Leeds Network database at: <http://leedsnetwork.leeds.ac.uk>
- If you are interested in running your own business, the Spark team here at Cromer Terrace can help you: http://careerweb.leeds.ac.uk/info/15/starting\_a\_business\_spark
- Keep an eye on Careers Centre events – presentations, workshops and fairs – all are advertised on our website.

The advisory staff at the Careers Centre (5-7 Cromer Terrace) will be happy to discuss your career plans with you, but if it is difficult for you to visit you can use our online guidance service, MyCareer Questions (<http://equidance.leeds.ac.uk/>). Annabelle Cross, Senior Careers Consultant, also holds regular clinics in your department. Our website (<http://careerweb.leeds.ac.uk>) has lots of information to help you get started and includes lots of ebooks you can download to read at your leisure.

Have you considered postgraduate study?

Approximately 26% of Psychology graduates stay on to do postgraduate study. Some enhance their knowledge in the subject by embarking on a PhD or Masters others take the Postgraduate Certificate in Education (PGCE) to qualify as teachers as a route to qualifying as an Educational Psychologist. The following sources are available to help you choose a course:
